

Innovators for Tomorrow

Dean Prof. Yasuhiko Kawamura
Faculty of Engineering,
Institute of Technology and Science
Tokushima University

The faculty of engineering, Tokushima University, was founded on 1949. A large number of excellent engineers, technologists and researchers graduated from the faculty and have been working in well-known enterprises, research institutes, universities and so on as innovators. The Faculty of Engineering has a strong commitment to a variety of advanced graduate studies in engineering and a high-level research.

Joint researches with engineers and researchers in overseas countries have been indispensable, since problems to be solved have been worldwide. We have published a booklet for introducing our professors⁽¹⁾ and their research topics to make further progress to worldwide researches.

I would be greatly appreciated if this booklet becomes a help for you to decide joint researches with our professors.
